Mr. James McAviney, aged about 28 years, died at his home in the southern suburbs of Potosi last Monday night of consumption. His funeral took place Wednesday morning. Mr. McAviney was a man of many good qualities and had numerous friends who greatly regret his death.

Rev. H. F. Horseman writes us that after having served the Palmer circuit for several months he has been transferred to Northwest Nebraska, where he will be stationed at Fountain Valley. He states further that he has left his former charge at Palmer in better condition than it has been for years, financially as well as otherwise.

Go to Sunlight for Clothing.

Rudolph Eichberger, a farmer living near Hopewell, became violently insane last Sunday and on Monday was brought before the County Court, which ordered him sent to the State insane asylum at Fulton. Mr. Eichberger several years ago had a similar attack and spent several months in the asylum, but was returned home cured. His present attack seems to be worse than the first, and the fact that the unfortunate man has a large family dependent upon him makes the case all the more pitiful.

A Mixed Result.

The result of the election in this county was a split between the two tickets: The Democrats have elected the following officers: E. T. Eversole, Representative; Thomp. Blount, Collector; J. B. Boyer, Treasurer, and Jeff. Higginbotham, Sheriff. The Republicans elected M. E. Rhodes, Prosecuting Attorney; J. P. Williams, Assessor; Jules E. Boyer and F. E. Cole, County Judges; H. Hawkins, Surveyor; Chas. Williams, Coroner, and Chas. Seyfarth, Public Administrator.

The Republican Rally.

The Republicans of Washington County invaded Potosi last Saturday and held possession of the town for the day. It was the grandest political demonstration ever witnessed in Washington County and perhaps in Southeast Missouri. The grand Republican rally of four years ago, which broke all former records for political gatherings, was surpassed in every way.

The weather clerk provided a beautiful day for the occasion, and the people of the north end of the county vied with those of the south end, and the east end with those of the west end as to which should turn out the largest delegation, and every section turned out a multitude. Great as the crowd was its enthusiasm was greater, and the air vibrated with cheers and hurrahs for McKinley, Flory and the rest of the Republican ticket.

The gathering hosts began to assemble early, many who had a long way to come arriving the night before. They were marshalled to Casey's pasture east of town where the parade line was formed. The parade began to move at 11 o'clock in the morning and marched through town over the route as laid out in the program. It is estimated that between one thousand and fifteen hundred people rode in the parade, and probably five hundred people more were stationed along the line of march.

Nearly every man in the parade carried a flag, either large or small, and the horses and vehicles were gaily decorated with flags and bunting. Numerous banners of telling device were borne aloft along the line. The features of the procession were the number of colored voters which took part in it, and who were headed by their own drum corps; the fine music rendered by the Farmington and Maxville bands, the former riding in its handsome band-wagon; and last, but not least, the two floats drawn by four mule teams, carrying the crew from Sullivan & Wilmesher's saw mill.

After taking in the town the parade disbanded at the court house about noon.

No hall was large enough to accommodate all who wanted to hear the speaking which took place in the afternoon, so from a decorated stand in front of the court house the speakers addressed the crowd. Hon. Geo. D. Reynolds, of St. Louis, made the first address, speaking on national issues, and was roundly applauded and cheered. He was followed by Hon. B. F. Russell, of Steelville. Mr. Russell spoke on state issues, and his exposition of the unsatisfactory state of affairs in Missouri under the present Democratic administration was listened to with interest and brought forth much applause and cheering.

All Potosi, irrespective of politics, seemed to take an interest in the success of the demonstration, and the business houses in town and many of the private residences were lavishly decorated with flags and bunting.

Married.

At the residence of Rev. Father Gallagher, Old Mines, Mo., Wednesday morning, October 24, 1900, at 10:30 o'clock a. m. Mr. Robert Hays to Miss Maggie Paul. At half past ten the bride and groom entered the residence, which was richly decorated for the occasion and overflowing with friends of the couple. Standing in the center of the Priest's parlor they were united in marriage.

From there they were driven to the home of the bride's father, Mr. Kenneth Paul, where a bountiful dinner was served to the invited guests.

The bride was attired in white albatross over which the beautiful bridal veil fell in lovely folds. She carried bridal rose, emblems of her pure, sweet life. The groom wore a suit of conventional black.

Miss Hays, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid. She was also dressed in white. Mr. Politte, groomsmen, wore a suit of brown.

The lady of Mr. Hays's choice is a daughter of Mr. Kenneth Paul. She is a model girl and of rare attainments, and we trust will make a model wife.

Robert is a Washington county boy, well known to the readers of the Journal, of which they should be proud.

The people of Old Mines extend their congratulations to the happy couple.

OBITUARY.

Our hearts are saddened by the loss of Mrs. Sarah A. Wood, who has lived among us during the sixty-nine years of her life, and whom we learned to respect and love.

Sarah A. Eaton was born in Washington County, March 13, 1831. On June 8, 1848, she was united in matrimony to John W. Wood. She professed a hope in Christ in the year 1850, and united with the Baptist Church, being baptized by Rev. Wm. Settles. She lived a faithful and consistent Christian life, and made a faithful and loving wife and mother, laboring for the cause of Christ, and for the spiritual and physical welfare of her family.

She was the mother of eleven children, four of whom have gone before. Of the seven who are living—three sons and four daughters, six are followers of Christ, and members of the Church. About forty grand-children and eleven great grand-children survive her.

At the time of her death, which occurred Oct. 31, 1900, she was a member of the New Hope Baptist Church, St. Francois Co., of which her husband was formerly pastor. She was ever ready to assist him in his work of giving the Gospel to the people. He is left behind to mourn her loss.

The funeral service was held at the Hickory Grove Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. C. T. Fortune, on Nov. 1. About two hundred and fifty friends and relatives assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to the one they loved and honored.

"Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord."

This great business has grown to such vast proportions,

First—Because the proprietors have always been most careful in selecting the various ingredients used in its composition, namely, the finest Cod Liver Oil, and the purest Hypophosphites.

Second—Because they have so skillfully combined the various ingredients that the best possible results are obtained by its use.

Third—Because it has made so many sickly, delicate children strong and healthy, given health and rosy cheeks to so many pale, anaemic girls, and healed the lungs and restored to full health, so many thousands in the first stages of Consumption.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 499-515 Third Street, New York. 50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
